
US-Iran: Card. Sako (Baghdad), “the region is a volcano about to erupt” due to “emotional and impulsive decisions”

“Wisdom is required to avoid the ‘volcano eruption’ we are about to face”, the Chaldean Patriarch of Baghdad, Card. Louis Raphael Sako, said during the Epiphany Mass celebrated yesterday in Baghdad’s St. Joseph’s Cathedral, in front of the many faithful who attended the celebration despite the ongoing tensions in the Iraqi capital. According to the Chaldean Patriarchate, the Patriarch described the critical situation in Iraq and the region as a “volcano about to erupt due to the upsetting escalation, emotional and impulsive decisions, lacking wisdom and the sense of responsibility”. The Cardinal appealed

Immagine non disponibile